

Moving Check List

8 Weeks Before the Move

- Begin to take inventory of your possessions. Keep in mind the size of home/apartment you are moving to (if you are downsizing, you may have to sort through things to get rid of/donate).
- Making a drawing/furniture plan for the new home can help you figure out what you will have space for, and where it will go...Ask for a Floorplan if available!
- Organize all your important documents (passports, birth certificates, deeds, insurance paperwork, leases etc.) by putting them together in a secure location.
- Notify any doctors/veterinarians of the move if the move requires you find a new one. In doing so, have the doctors forward medical records to the new doctor.
- The same goes for any schools and school records for any members of your family. You will want to begin enrollment services at the new school if you are switching districts.
- If you need any storage in conjunction with your new home, now is also the time to start looking for that.
- Plan to have a yard/garage sale and begin to sort through the belongings that you are not taking. Obviously, this may be seasonal in parts of the country.

6 Weeks Before the Move

May, June, July, August are the Peak Months...allow yourself extra time!

- Call a moving company directly (not a broker) and arrange for an estimate. After thorough investigation and thought, schedule that moving company.
- Contact homeowner's insurance/rental insurance agency to go over changes in policy.
- Contact donation companies about picking up furniture you are looking to get rid of. Most of them will pick up the furniture free of charge.

4 Weeks Before the Move

- Contact appropriate agencies to report an upcoming change of address and setup services at the new address. A few to keep in mind are the post office (USPS), IRS, DMV, utility companies (phone, cable, internet, water, gas, electricity etc.), banks and financial institutions, credit card companies, voter registration, and subscription services (newspapers, magazines etc.)
- Begin to pack items that you will not need prior to the move (Usually things like garage, attic, decorations, books etc.)
- Do Not Pack Jewelry, Money, Guns, Ammunition, Liquids, flammables, Fuels (gasoline should be emptied from lawn mowers a week before), propane, etcetera!

2 Weeks Before the Move

- If you are purchasing or moving appliances, schedule a service firm for moving day to prepare appliances for the move.
- Arrange for Locksmith to change locks of new home.
- Don't forget to bring back those library books!
- Confirm utility installation and start dates for new home.
- Pack everything you can go without until you are in your new home.

1 Week Before the Move

- Confirm move date with your mover.
- Keep working on that packing!
You're almost there!

1 Day Before the Move

- Disconnect appliances, that you are moving
- Pack 1 or 2 "Open Immediately" boxes with items like prescriptions, hygiene items, sheets for the bed etc. so you won't have to be searching through boxes to find what you need.
- Pack the last of your items.
- Kick your feet up, order a pizza and be proud you made it this far, only 1 more day to go!

Moving Day

- When the movers arrive, you will want to do a walk-through with the foreman (leader).
- When everything is out of the home, do another walk-through to make sure everything has been taken out. Make sure to check closets, attics, basements and anywhere things could easily be overlooked.
- Perform walk-through of new residence before movers begin to bring your items in. Let the movers do what they do best, walk around the home. They may look for additional instructions as to where certain things will go.
- It is a good idea to have a little help from family to direct the movers in setting up and arranging the furniture.
- Inspect boxes, furniture and residence for any damage. Make sure to have the foreman take note of it.
- Start to unpack and enjoy your new home!
